

Fertility Solutions: Patient Consent, terms and conditions

NAME:

You confirm that you understand that:

Included in your semen analysis or DNA fragmentation test price is a copy of your results report and a discussion of your results. You are not obliged to follow this advice or the recommendations that we make to you. Other fertility providers can interpret your fertility tests if you should so wish. A discussion of your results is not designed to replace a consultation with a Gynaecologist or urologist.

If following your discussion you request a referral to a urologist or gynaecologist you will from this point be a patient of the referred consultant and it is your responsibility to discuss with the consultant their fees and charges.

Following any tests referred by a consultant you will need to make an appointment to discuss these results with your consultant, you understand that additional costs will be payable for this appointment.

You give consent to Fertility Solutions to correspond with your referring clinician or practise.

All semen samples are disposed of after testing and are not frozen for future use unless sperm freezing has been specifically arranged.

Your semen analysis will be conducted by a suitably experienced embryologist/andrologist externally assessed by NEQAS.

Payment for diagnostic testing is required to secure your booking and is not refundable. This includes but is not limited to: if the sample produced on the day is not suitable for testing, if you have not followed our instructions for periods of abstinence or if you cancel your booking with us.

All medical reports are sent via the secure portal egress with no exception if you are unable to open your report a copy will be posted to your home address.

You consent to allow Fertility Solutions to use your personal data as per our privacy policy and terms and conditions. To enable us to send you your results by email we require your consent to do this.

Fertility solutions reserves the right to cancel a clinic in this event an alternative appointment will be made.

Whilst we have confidence in any consultant that we refer to you this is a recommendation only and not an endorsement of their abilities. You are advised to carry out due diligent on any specialist individual or clinic to which you entrust your care and treatment.

Due to the recent pandemic fertility services following your tests are likely to be delayed.

In respect to the pandemic regulatory guidelines from a number of governing bodies have been followed however you understand that you enter the hospital at your own risk.

I have read Fertility Solutions' privacy statement and terms and conditions contained within their booking system and I agree to abide by them.

Signed:

Date:

For those patients having a DNA Fragmentation test only You agree to the extra charge of £100 if your sample is found to be under 5 Million per ML. Fertility Solutions accepts no responsibility for loss of your sample during transportation and processing by Examen.

For patients having a vasectomy only When you are referred to the clinic for a semen analysis following vasectomy, fertility solutions act in a diagnostic capacity only. The responsibility of the interpretation of your results and the efficacy of procedure remains with the operating surgeon. Fertility Solutions cannot offer you clearance you will need to make an appointment with your operating consultant to discuss this. We advise contraceptive measures in the meantime.